

Andrew G. Karalis*

Paralegal

akaralis@goulstonstorrs.com

Boston: +1 617 574 0587

Andrew Karalis is a litigation paralegal. He provides critical support to the firm’s trial lawyers as they review, prepare, manage, and defend cases for clients across many industries. Andrew handles a wide range of research, document review and case management, as well as other litigation support.

Andrew graduated from Northeastern University's D'Amore McKim School of Business with a concentration in finance. Alongside his studies, he completed two co-ops where he absorbed experience in both the private wealth management and investment monitoring fields.

Andrew’s primary languages are English and Greek.

Andrew Karalis is not a practicing attorney.*

Languages

- Greek

Education

- Northeastern University (B.S., 2023)