

Corporate & Private Entity Disputes

The Goulston & Storrs Corporate & Private Entity Disputes group is a multi-disciplinary team of business attorneys and litigators who provide advice relating to entity disputes, business governance and best practices. This group also conducts internal and external investigations in these matters, and provides support to clients regarding director and officer liability, errors and omissions liability insurance defense, and indemnity reviews. Our attorneys have particular experience representing clients in litigation involving shareholder and partnership disputes and officer and director liability. We also have a wealth of experience resolving disputes involving alternative entities such as Limited Liability Companies and Limited Liability Partnerships.
