Jill Fox is a corporate attorney who focuses on complex finance transactions, including private equity sponsored leveraged buy-outs.

She counsels lenders in connection with domestic and cross-border leveraged finance transactions involving syndicated institutional loans, secured credit facilities, and mezzanine debt issuances.

While at Goulston & Storrs, Jill has spent time as a legal secondee to a major financial institution, serving as in-house counsel to its commercial bank. In that capacity, she provided transactional support, analysis, and advice on structural issues and risk management, as well as negotiation, drafting, and review of credit facilities and collateral documentation.

Prior to joining Goulston & Storrs, Jill was a corporate finance associate at the New York office of an Am Law 100 law firm.
