

John Arsneault*

Chief Information Officer & Chief Data Officer

jarsneault@goulstonstorrs.com

Boston: +1 617 574 4125

John Arsneault is a tech executive, startup investor, and board member / advisor. In 30+ years in the technology industry, his experience has spanned tech startups, legal services, academia, financial services and consulting.

As the Chief Information Officer & Chief Data Officer of Goulston & Storrs, John is responsible for the firm's technology & data strategy and operations. He oversees IT Infrastructure, Security, Application Solutions, Support & Training, Knowledge Management, Risk Services, Research, the PMO and Data Governance.

John is also the Founder of Portfolio X, a venture company that invests in tech startups via private market exchanges, SPVs and incubators. He has invested in over 50 companies resulting in several IPOs, including: MongoDB, DocuSign, Cloudera, Nutanix, Lyft, Pinterest, Draft Kings, Digital Ocean, Netcapital, 23andMe, Molekule, and Instacart.

In addition, he serves:

- The Legal Tech Fund – as an advisor to a venture capital firm focused on legal technology.
- Intapp (NASDAQ: INTA) – as an advisor to a business systems company with a focus on legal and financial services.

John is a member of The Wall Street Journal's CIO Network and the Forbes Technology Council. He is a speaker at various technology forums and summits and routinely publishes articles on LinkedIn and Forbes.

John holds certs from Harvard Business School in Delivering Information Services and Building Advantage Through Operations.

John Arsneault is not a practicing attorney.*

Affiliations

- Member – The Wall Street Journal's CIO Network

- Member – CNBC’s Technology Executive Council
- Member – The Forbes Technology Council
- Member - Massachusetts Technology Leadership Council
- Speaker - International Legal Technology Association (ILTA)
- Speaker – Apex CIO Summit
- Speaker - Argyle Information Technology Forum
- Attendee - Recode’s annual Code Conference
- Attendee – Y Combinator’s Demo Day
- Contributor - Venture Fizz - a Boston tech startup website

Education

- Harvard Business School (Certificate, 2006)