

John Arsneault*

Chief Information Officer

jarsneault@goulstonstorrs.com

Boston: +1 617 574 4125

John Arsneault is the Chief Information Officer at Goulston & Storrs. He is focused on improving client experience, growth opportunities and efficiency via technology adoption. John is responsible for the firm's technology infrastructure, application portfolio, knowledge & research services, support organization and records management.

Prior to joining Goulston & Storrs, John held senior management positions at various tech startups, at an Am Law Top 20 firm and at Harvard Business School.

John plays an active role in tech startups throughout the US. He enjoys advising on business and technology strategies for early and mid-stage startups.

John Arsneault is not a practicing attorney.*

Affiliations

- Member - Massachusetts Technology Leadership Council
- Member - Wired Magazine's Emerging Tech Council
- Speaker - International Legal Technology Association (ILTA)
- Speaker - Argyle Information Technology Forum
- Attendee - Recode's annual Code Conference
- Attendee - Wall Street Journal's annual Digital Live Conference
- Contributor - Venture Fizz - a Boston tech startup website

Education

- Harvard Business School (Certificate, 2006)

Publications

January 31, 2019

Decrypting Blockchain

VentureFizz

October 11, 2018

Digital Transformation = Garbage Out

VentureFizz

May 31, 2018

Code Conference 2018

April 9, 2018

The Price of Free

January 11, 2018

What to do about AI?

October 19, 2017

Artificial Security and Why It's Important in an Innovative Society

VentureFizz

July 6, 2017

The New Way Things Work - The Cloud's Impact on IT and the Tech Sector

VentureFizz

June 1, 2017

Code Conference 2017