

Lee S. Templin

Associate

lttemplin@goulstonstorrs.com

Washington, D.C.: +1 202 721 1153

Lee Sheehan Templin is a real estate attorney. Her practice focuses on land use and transactional matters in commercial real estate development. She assists clients with joint ventures, acquisitions and dispositions, zoning, permitting, and historic preservation issues. During law school, Lee served as a legal intern with the Federal Trade Commission's Office of International Affairs and as an intern to Legal Affairs Correspondent Nina Totenberg at National Public Radio (NPR).

Prior to her legal career, Lee was a violinist with the Atlanta Opera Orchestra, the Tucson Symphony Orchestra, and the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra. She was also a fellow at the Tanglewood Music Center.

Affiliations

- Board of Directors, Atlanta Music Project
- Member, Commercial Real Estate Women (CREW)

Admissions

- Maryland
- District of Columbia

Education

- Georgetown University Law Center (J.D., 2019)
- Indiana University Jacobs School of Music (M.M., 2013)
- Northwestern University (B.M., 2010)