

Pop-Up Halloween Stores Don't Scare Landlords

October 22, 2015

Pop-up Halloween stores can be big business for both retailers and their landlords. Even though pop-up tenants only typically occupy their spaces for a maximum of 90 days, landlords are able to charge higher rents for those periods than one would typically find on a longer lease.