

Construction Law Today: Using an Expert Witness in Construction Litigation

June 23, 2020

Construction Law Today Podcast

Many cases require the use of expert witnesses on issues ranging from causation to damages. Alex Dockery of Goulston & Storrs joins Chris Sullivan, a consultant and expert witness with FTI Consulting, discuss the basics, and some of the more complex issues, of retaining and effectively using an expert in the construction case. The discussion highlights why choosing and working well with the right expert can make an important difference in your case.

Construction Law Today, the podcast of the American Bar Association's Forum on Construction Law discusses current topics in American construction law.
