Chris Ende was quoted in the announcement of The Standards Advancement for the Legal Industry Alliance \(SALI\) Legal Matter Specification Standard \(LMSS\) 1.0.

“Like many other firms, we have grappled with the challenge of trying to derive meaning from our firm-specific matter taxonomy,” said Chris Ende, chief value officer at Goulston & Storrs. “We were excited to participate in the development of the first standard for describing matters in the legal industry, and are thrilled to see it released today. This collaboration among parties across the legal ecosystem represents a groundbreaking milestone for the industry in terms of quality, consistency and transparency.”
