

Sarah M. Eberspacher

Associate

seberspacher@goulstonstorrs.com

Boston: +1 617 574 2249

Sarah Eberspacher is a litigator handling a wide range of complex disputes on behalf of corporate entities, insurers, and individuals. She has particular experience guiding clients through employment-based litigation ranging from harassment, discrimination, and retaliation claims to wage and hour disputes. Sarah appears on behalf of clients in both state and federal courts, before administrative agencies, and in alternative dispute resolution (ADR) proceedings, including mediation and agency conciliations.

Sarah is committed to pro bono work as a robust part of her practice, focusing on reproductive rights and, more broadly, gender equity.

Prior to beginning her legal career, Sarah spent five years working as a reporter and editor for several international media outlets' U.S. editions, including TheWeek.com and the Guardian US. A Northwestern University graduate (Go Cats!), Sarah shares her Purple Pride with the East Coast as a member of the Alumni Admission Council and Northwestern Network Mentorship Program.

Accolades

- Massachusetts Super Lawyers Rising Stars, 2024
- Massachusetts 2021 Capital Pro Bono High Honor Roll
- 2021 Capital Pro Bono Honor Roll (District of Columbia)

Affiliations

- Member, Women's Bar Association of Massachusetts
- Member, Boston Bar Association

Admissions

- Massachusetts
- U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts

- U.S. Court of Appeals, First Circuit
- District of Columbia

Education

- Georgetown University Law Center (J.D., cum laude, 2020)
 - 2020 GULC Domestic Violence Clinic “Outstanding Advocate Award”
 - Managing Editor, Georgetown Journal of Gender and the Law - Note selected for publication: ‘Delete Your Account’ or Deal With It? How News Organizations are Failing to Support Female Reporters Against Online Harassment
- Northwestern University (M.S., 2012)
 - Journalism
- Northwestern University (B.S., 2012)
 - Journalism