

Tax Controversy/Litigation

Our Tax Group regularly handles federal and state tax controversy matters, representing clients in all phases of the dispute resolution process from audit through litigation. We engage in negotiations with the IRS or other tax authorities to achieve favorable results for our clients and litigate matters when satisfactory results cannot be achieved through negotiation. One matter we are currently handling involves a significant foreign tax credit claim that was disallowed by the IRS.