Martin M. Fantozzi has been elected as co-managing director of Goulston & Storrs, the law firm said Wednesday.

Fantozzi will manage the firm alongside co-managing director Douglas M. Husid. Fantozzi replaces Kitt Sawitsky, who will continue to serve as co-chair of the Boston-based law firm's business group.

"Marty's election followed Goulston's consensus driven approach to decision making involving the entire partnership. This level of involvement resulted in unanimous agreement that Marty was the ideal choice, and I'm excited to have him join me in this role," said Husid in a prepared written statement.

Fantozzi's practice focuses on litigation matters.
